STATE OF ALABAMA

Information Technology Policy

Policy 110-00: Information Technology Service Functions

State government is comprised of a diverse set of services to citizens. Services may be generally categorized according to the primary mission or purpose of the state agency or institution. In most cases, information systems were not designed to promote the collaboration of agency mission and data resources. As such, there exists duplication of data and resources necessary to accomplish multiple missions. The State needs to promote communications and collaboration among those agencies serving common missions and individuals.

OBJECTIVES:
The objective of this policy is to establish broad functional categories of services supported by multiple agencies and information systems. Members of these groups will be encouraged to communicate and plan the development of information systems that promote collaboration and electronic interfaces. These groups will provide a common forum for the review and feedback of agency plans, budgets and projects.

SCOPE:
This policy applies to all state agencies, boards and commissions.

ENFORCEMENT:

Authority
State of Alabama Code, Acts 1973, No. 1299, Section 41-4-220 through 41-4-424.
State of Alabama Code, Acts 1990, No. 90-553, Section 41-4-280 through 41-4-37.
State of Alabama Code, Acts 2000-715, Section 16-61-D through 16-61-D6.
State of Alabama, Executive Order 20, May 20, 2002.

Reporting

Non-Compliance

DEFINITIONS:

Economic Development and Transportation
Providing resources and infrastructure directed at developing the state's economy and promoting the marketing of Alabama products, services and workforce and regulating economic activities related to development.

Education and Culture

Promoting access to quality education from early childhood through post graduate studies including targeted support of fine arts, and math and science through schools, libraries, educational television; and enhancing of the quality of life by supporting diverse, rich artistic resources and preserving historic records, artifacts and places.

General Government
Providing administrative and support services for the legislative and executive branches of state government including financial management, personnel management, information technology, and enforcement of management and ethical standards and election laws.

Health and Human Services
Providing social services and health related services to all citizens.

Licenses and Regulation
Enforcing standards of practice for a wide variety of professions and businesses for the protection of all citizens.

Natural Resources and Environment
Preserving and conserving the natural resources and the environment of the state for its long term future.

Protection of Persons and Property
Providing judicial services through courts and other legal entities, law enforcement and correctional services including information management and crime victim response, and planning, preparing and responding to natural or manmade disasters.

By Authority of:

Chief Information Officer — Date: 6/8/01

Policy History

Version	Release Date	Comments
Original	6/8/2006	